“ On the last day of the program, I gave a speech in front of the class about my life in Victoria. I talked about the beautiful places I had visited, the friends I made and how much my English had improved throughout the course. It was both a challenging and emotional experience because I was reflecting on everything I had learned and the time I spent there. Standing in front of everyone, speaking in English confidently, was a huge accomplishment for me and a perfect way to end my journey at ELC.
